

WordCloud For Comments-Corpus

Significant textual data points can be highlighted using a word cloud.

Subreddit Comments WordCloud:

These visualize discussions by sizing words according to how often they appear. Bigger words mean they're said more. This shows important topics quickly, helping researchers and regular folks understand what's talked about most in the subreddit's comments. This nifty trick lets us quickly see what's hot in the conversation – the big words are the big topics. It's like a snapshot of the conversation's most important parts. making it easy to grasp what's getting talked about the most in that subreddit's Comments.

WordCloud For Comments-Corpus:

